

RESOLUTION

68(22)

March 2, 2022

WHEREAS, National Alcohol Awareness Month is a public health program organized by the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence in April 1987 as a way of increasing outreach and education regarding the dangers of alcoholism and issues related to alcohol; and

WHEREAS, a big part of the work of National Alcohol Awareness Month is to point out the stigma that still surrounds alcoholism and substance abuse in general. One goal is to point out that denial is a major characteristic of alcohol abuse, both from the person currently experiencing it and from friends and family members who are uncomfortable acknowledging the gravity of the situation; and

WHEREAS, for many, denial is a common trait among those struggling with alcoholism or alcohol abuse. They often underestimate the amount they drink, the duration of their drinking problem, the impact it has had on their life, or overestimate their ability to control their drinking or to quit; and

WHEREAS, continuing to drink despite clear signs of significant impairments can result in an alcohol overdose. An alcohol overdose occurs when there is so much alcohol in the bloodstream that areas of the brain controlling basic life-support functions—such as breathing, heart rate, and temperature control—begin to shut down; and

WHEREAS, the developing brain is particularly vulnerable to effects of alcohol. Misuse of alcohol during adolescence and early adulthood can alter the trajectory of brain development, resulting in long-lasting changes in brain structure and function; and

WHEREAS, Alcohol Use Disorder (AUD) is a chronic brain disorder marked by compulsive drinking, loss of control over alcohol use, and negative emotions when not drinking. AUD can be mild, moderate, or severe. Recovery is possible regardless of severity; and

WHEREAS, National Alcohol Awareness Month gives public health bodies, community centers, and treatment facilities the chance to increase their efforts to reach people who may not fully appreciate the dangers of unhealthy alcohol consumption.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Ocean County Board of Health proclaims April as NATIONAL ALCOHOL AWARENESS MONTH 2022 in Ocean County to increase awareness of the dangers and issues associated with alcohol abuse.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution shall be sent to the Ocean County Board of Commissioners, and Ocean County LACADA members.
